Under Armour Speedform Apollo after listing, presumably grabbed a lot of technology control vision. Whenever we think of the use of special materials and ingenious design, we can immediately associate with Under Armour. UA in order to research and development of Speedform technology, the spirit moved to sports underwear, to create a comfortable feeling like underwear, and provide good ventilation, evolved into Under, Armour, Speedform, Apollo.

The shape of the

is a little different from the previous generation, but the toe part is removed from the front end to provide a better sense of dress. The existing Micro G cushion is made of wearable rubber, and the groove designed by the outsole can make the shoes more flexible and extended during the movement. In addition the goblet is stable after silicone heel piece provides stable spot, good foot.

in addition, the biggest characteristic is to use garment factory to create a vamp, as mentioned earlier from the sports underwear inspiration, UA provides comfort and extend the sense of team development opportunity, also has good air permeability, so that even in the hot summer wear can also cool and breathable.
